

ACT
Government

Territory and Municipal Services

MEDIA Release

MR41/0112

3 February 2012

HOW CYBER SMART ARE YOU?

Come along to a free 45 minute cyber smart session and learn how to be safe online.

“Libraries ACT will hold four cyber smart sessions to help raise awareness of some of the risks that exist on the Internet and strategies to address them,” said Vanessa Little, Director, Libraries ACT.

“The sessions for all ages will be held throughout the week beginning Monday 6 February 2012 to coincide with Safer Internet Day on Tuesday 7 February 2012.

“In celebration of the National Year of Reading, we are raising awareness of digital literacy. The digital world is all around us, and there is a great need for resources for everyone to stay safe online, whatever their age. There’s information for parents, educators, children and seniors.

“Participants will have the opportunity to chat with library staff and have their online safety questions answered.

“A range of topics will be discussed including:

- safe shopping online;
- social networking;
- tools to keep children safe online; and,
- where to go for advice and information,” Ms Little said.

Bookings are essential for these free sessions and can be made by visiting www.library.act.gov.au or calling 6205 9000.

What: Free cyber smart sessions

When: Monday 6 February 2012, from 6 pm to 6:45 pm, at Woden Library
Tuesday 7 February 2012, from 6 pm to 6:45 pm, at Belconnen Library
Wednesday 8 February 2012, from 6 pm to 6:45 pm, at Erindale Library
Thursday 9 February 2012, from 6 pm to 6:45 pm, at Kippax Library

Registration: Bookings are essential, visit www.library.act.gov.au or call 6205 9000

Statement Ends

Media contact: Renee Gallo, 6207 5743