

MR565/0112

10 January 2012

MUSIC WITH ANDY MASON AT BELCONNEN AND TUGGERANONG LIBRARIES

Looking for some fun entertainment the whole family can enjoy during the school holidays? Why not attend a musical concert hosted by Libraries ACT.

“We are excited to announce that Andy Mason will be performing a fun musical concert for the whole family at Belconnen and Tuggeranong libraries on Tuesday 17 January 2012,” said Vanessa Little, Director, Libraries ACT.

“Andy is an award winning singer from the United States who is currently performing for kids of all ages across Australia.

“His interactive show consists of singing, dancing and moving around to cover tunes like ‘Shake Your Sillies Out’ and original songs like ‘Everybody Likes Pizza’ and ‘How to Make a Burrito’.

“Kids and parents alike love Andy's original music. His interactive program has everyone singing, dancing, laughing and learning right from the very first song.

“Andy's many years as an educator are clearly visible in his concerts and his unique style will have everyone shouting for more,” said Ms Little.

Bookings are essential for this free event and places are still available for the Belconnen Library show. Visit www.library.act.gov.au or call 6205 9000 to make a booking.

WHAT: Free concert for children with Andy Mason
WHEN: Tuesday 17 January 2012
DETAILS: 10.30 am – 11.30 am at Belconnen Library
2 pm – 3 pm at Tuggeranong Library (booked out)

Statement Ends

Media contact: Kirsten Rae, 6205 2173