

Volunteer programs

In addition to ParkCare, there are a number of other programs in the ACT offering hands-on involvement in caring for the natural environment. These include:

- Landcare;
- Waterwatch;
- Catchment Groups (Southern ACT, Molonglo and Ginninderra);
- Friends of Grasslands (FOG);
- National Parks Association (NPA);
- Greening Australia;
- Conservation Volunteers Australia (CVA); and
- Urban Park Landcare Groups.

All groups need additional active participants, so please consider joining in.

For further information about these groups, visit the ACT Landcare website: www.actlandcare.org.au

What is ParkCare?

ParkCare is a partnership between the ACT Government and community volunteer groups, formed to care for local nature reserves and Namadgi National Park.

Training, equipment and support are provided by the ACT Government. You don't need any previous experience or special skills, just an interest in making a difference.

- have fun
- give as little or as much time as you want
- achieve results
- gain experience and new skills

Get involved in the bush capital

ParkCare members are involved in a whole range of activities including:

- collecting native seed;
- growing and planting seedlings for bush regeneration;
- controlling highly invasive weeds that take over native bushland;
- monitoring plants, animals and water quality;
- restoring and maintaining early European settlement heritage sites;
- raising public awareness;
- producing the Volunteers Newsletter, 'Scribbly Gum' and
- fostering partnerships with local schools.
